

Perspective

“Proving of better and safer roads”, have become the basic minimum goal for any road agency in the country and across the globe. Our state also, though a bit delayed, started assuming the responsibility of the same. Initiatives for the revamping of the system in comprehensive and sustainable manner have already been set off.

Media plays a vital role in the analysis, feedback and suggestions enabling us to critically approach the parameters of the aspect, looking at the outcome of the effects generated by the assets. With a view to open up such a discussion, a seminar is scheduled during 28th and 29th of March-2012. Seven papers will be presented in two plenary sessions. Response from the media, management and administrative roles and accountability of public servants, stakeholder participation in road safety are some of the topics included.

The outcome of the recently concluded workshop on infrastructure, IC 2011, would be released as a pilot policy approach in the direction of modernisation initiatives.
